KMC Brands “Rebrands” to America’s Hemp

To reflect its complete commitment to all things Hemp, the parent company of America’s Hemp Academy and America’s Hemp Foods Rebrands

De Soto, KS - KMC Brands announced today that it has rebranded to America’s Hemp. The name change reflects the company’s commitment to all things Hemp, from research to education and more. America’s Hemp is the parent company for many organizations, including America’s Hemp Academy and America’s Hemp Foods. Industrial Hemp is currently the fastest growing crop in US agriculture. The company is poised to delve into many new areas of Hemp, including a new Hemp processing machine and Hemp construction efforts.

America’s Hemp was founded by Joe Bisogno, who believes in the miracle crop’s unlimited potential. His belief inspired him to open America’s Hemp in De Soto, Kansas. America’s Hemp is committed to educating the world about growing, harvesting, processing and all things Hemp. The company management team is committed to the belief that Hemp can make the world a better, greener and healthier place.

America’s Hemp Academy educates students on growing and industry trends. America’s Hemp Foods possesses the only hemp flour mill, which allows them to alter popular recipes in hemp-specific diets such as cookies, pizza crust and protein bites.

About America’s Hemp

America’s Hemp is a unique player in today’s Hemp market by motivating farmers, consumers and officials on a journey to better and more sustainable tomorrow. America’s Hemp’s mission is to further the understanding and knowledge of the miracle of Hemp to public officials and citizens across the globe through education and innovation, as America’s Hemp firmly believes that education is the key to progress.
